yhi pendant

080906_72 | 108

The Yhi Pendant is imbued with inspirational sculptural beauty. With a firm commitment to sustainability, Yhi's radiant form cradles the light source, highlighting the notion that electrical energy is precious and inspiring its name, an Indigenous word meaning 'Sun Goddess'. Locally designed and manufactured from plantation-harvested plywood, the magnificent attention to detail of Yhi Pendant is carried through to its flat-packed assembly, minimising its environmental impact and carbon footprint through reduced transportation costs, making it green star friendly with a cool, chic, savvy to boot.
